

THE WICHITA QUALITY CENTER

South central Kansas is not only the world's leading producer of general aviation aircraft, it also is a thriving center for the high-quality manufacture of commercial transport aircraft and the modification of military and commercial airplanes.